

Collectors Day

Date/Time: Saturday, September 23, 2023
12:00 noon to 3:00 pm

Place: Anderson-Price Building
42 North Beach Street, Ormond Beach, FL 32174

Free Admission: (Open to the Public)

- Feel free to wear historical clothing.

Since almost everyone of all ages collects something, or has an interest in what others collect, the Ormond Beach Historical Society will be hosting a Collectors Day.

Come see and discover what types of vintage, antique, interesting, newfangled, and even eccentric items locals collect.

There will be postcards, photographs, toys, watches, coins, glassware, cards, military items and much more.

Learn and discuss the history of these collections and how the collectors obtain, display, restore, maintain, trade, and sell their items.

Also, many items will be for sale, so you might find that special item you've been looking for.

The Ormond Beach Historical Society will be providing free food, water, sodas, and coffee (for as long as supplies last).

A cash donation wine bar will also be serving beverages.
